

COUNTING MY BLESSINGS

If I were to count my numerous blessings
I know just where I would start:
I'd begin with God and the path I have trod
Since Jesus came into my heart.

I'd move on from there to my family and friends,
Naming each one I hold dear.
The list would be long and the memories so strong
That to count them might take a year!

What else would I count? Much, to be sure,
Like having a warm place to live
Where my needs are supplied and my wants satisfied
By a staff whose desire is to give.

I'm thankful for the freedoms this country affords –
Like the freedom to worship the Lord
in meetings like this, for I count it all bliss
To talk about God and his Word!

There is still much more that I am thankful for –
Far more than I can explain.
But I see a good reason to give thanks for a season –
It leaves us no time to complain!

*"Give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus."
– 1 Thessalonians 5:18*

---

Written by Verna Kwiatkowski for the October, 2007 service at Sky View called Scripture and Prayer with Verna and Friends.